Mirja Bouchard

Head of the Finnish Interpretation Unit, Directorate for Interpretation, European Parliament

Mirja Bouchard studied translation and interpretation at the University of Turku and obtained her M.A. in Applied Linguistics from the Université du Québec à Montréal in 1994.

She completed her training as a conference interpreter at the European Parliament in the autumn of 1994 and worked as a staff interpreter in the Finnish booth 1995-2010.

Since June 2010, she has also been the Head of the Finnish Interpretation Unit.

Her current working languages are EN FR EL and she does a retour into EN.