Or. en

Amendment by Edith Mastenbroek

Amendment 16
Recital A a (new)

Aa. Whereas the attacks on Madrid on 11 March 2004 and London on 7 July 2005 have shown that international terrorist organisations are active within the EU, attempt to expand through recruitment and consider EU citizens as their target,

Or. en

Amendment by Edith Mastenbroek

Amendment 17
Recital A b (new)

Ab. Whereas the threat of terrorism today challenges the cohesion and stability of European societies by stimulating negative polarisation and nurturing the breeding ground for radical extremism.

Or. en

Amendment by Edith Mastenbroek, Stavros Lambrinidis

Amendment 18
Recital B

B. whereas there is no contradiction between the fight against terrorism and the respect for human rights; he fight against terrorism has to be carried out with scrupulous respect for human rights and fundamental freedoms,

Or. en

Amendment by Luciana Sbarbati

Amendment 19
Recital B

B. whereas the fight against terrorism has to be carried out on a basis of (deletion) respect for human rights and fundamental freedoms; whereas the two concepts, far from being incompatible, are complementary realities since the protection of human rights is the ultimate justification of the fight against terrorism,

Or. it

Amendment by Kathalijne Maria Buitenweg, Jean Lambert, Tatjana Ždanoka

Amendment 20
Recital B

B. whereas the fight against terrorism has to be carried out on a basis of scrupulous respect for human rights and fundamental freedoms, especially freedom of religion and protection against discrimination; whereas the two concepts, far from being incompatible, are complementary realities since the protection of human rights is the ultimate justification of the fight against terrorism,

Or. en

Amendment by Giusto Catania

(deletion),

Or. en

Amendment by Giusto Catania

Amendment 24
Recital C

C. whereas terrorism in general and Jihadist terrorism in particular necessitate a global strategy (deletion);

Or. it

Amendment by Ignasi Guardans Cambó

Amendment 25
Recital C

C. whereas terrorism in general and Jihadist terrorism in particular necessitate a global strategy, which must comprise not only bringing to justice the individuals who commit the attacks but also the terrorist phenomenon at its roots and in all its aspects, from the recruitment of terrorists to the predicament of the victims and including the role of the social nexus which supports and generates terrorism as well as the underlying grounds and processes of it

Or. en

Amendment by Luciana Sbarbati

Amendment 26
Recital C

C. whereas terrorism in general and Jihadist terrorism in particular necessitate a global strategy, which must comprise not only combating the individuals who commit the attacks but also the terrorist phenomenon as a whole, from the recruitment of terrorists to the predicament of the victims and including the role of the socio-cultural nexus which supports and generates terrorism,

Or. it

Amendment by Kathalijne Maria Buitenweg, Jean Lambert, Tatjana Ždanoka

Amendment 27
Recital C a (new)

Ca. whereas public reflection is needed on the support that some Western governments have provided to extremist groups in the past, because at that time these groups were deemed helpful in assisting to achieve other foreign policy priorities.

Or. en

Amendment by Inés Ayala Sender, Bárbara Dührkop Dührkop, Iratxe García Pérez, Antonio Masip Hidalgo, Javier Moreno Sánchez

Amendment 28
Recital C a (new)

Ca. Whereas the unity of the democratic political forces and their full support of the European and national antiterrorist strategies is an essential element for the success of the fight against terrorism,

Or. en

Amendment by Giusto Catania

Amendment 29
Recital C a (new)

C a. whereas the strategy of preventive war has resulted in a radicalisation of Jihadist terrorism, increasing its penetration in society;

Or. it

Amendment by Giusto Catania

Amendment 30
Recital C b (new)

C b. whereas the Iraq war and the military occupation have led to an increase in terrorist attacks;

Or. it

Amendment by Giusto Catania

Amendment 31
Recital C c (new)

C c. whereas war and military occupation in Afghanistan have not resulted in the defeat of the terrorist networks;

Or. it

Amendment by Giusto Catania

Amendment 32
Recital C d (new)

C d. whereas the war in Afghanistan has resulted in an increase in the production of opium, which, turned into heroin and introduced on the international market, is contributing to the funding of terrorist organisations,

Or. it

Amendment by Giusto Catania

Amendment 33
Recital C e (new)

C e. whereas the 'extraordinary renditions' strategy, torture and secret jails must be counted among the factors which have beyond doubt contributed to the radicalisation of terrorism and its greater legitimation,

Or. it

Amendment by Giusto Catania

Amendment 34
Recital C f (new)

C f. whereas the most effective means of fighting terrorism is to defend the rule of law, human rights and procedural guarantees;

Or. it

Amendment by Giusto Catania

Amendment 35
Recital C g (new)

C g. whereas in recent years the indiscriminate fight against terrorism has served to legitimate unacceptable criminal acts and blatant violations of human rights,

Or. it

Amendment by Giusto Catania

Amendment 36
Recital D

D. whereas the recruitment of terrorists and the factors leading to violent radicalisation are key aspects of terrorism in general (deleted);

Or. it

Amendment by Edith Mastenbroek

Amendment 37
Recital D

D. Whereas preventing terrorism, and in particular international terrorism, necessitates a European strategy, first and foremost providing the tools for a targeted local response; whereas it is vital to adopt, at European level, a political strategy for neutralising the (delete) diffusion of messages instigating violence, through the education and the social integration of particular individuals and groups susceptible of being seduced by radical violent groups,

Or. en

Amendment by Luciana Sbarbati

Amendment 38
Recital D

D. whereas the recruitment of terrorists and the factors leading to violent radicalisation are key aspects of terrorism in general and Jihadist terrorism in particular; whereas it is vital to adopt, at European level, a strategy for neutralising the cultural, social, psychological and political radicalisation of particular individuals,

Or. it

Amendment by Ignasi Guardans Cambó

Amendment 39
Recital D

D. whereas the recruitment of terrorists and the factors leading to violent radicalisation are key aspects of terrorism in general and Jihadist terrorism in particular; whereas it is vital to adopt, at European level, a strategy for preventing the radicalisation of particular individuals,

Or. en

Amendment by Edith Mastenbroek

Amendment 40
Recital D a (new)

Da Whereas Europe has experienced violent extremism and totalitarian ideology in the past and faces various forms of terrorism today,

Or. en

Amendment by Edith Mastenbroek

Amendment 41
Recital D b (new)

Db. Whereas Islamic extremism is a relatively new phenomenon for the EU, and our understanding of radicalization affecting young Europeans is limited,

Or. en

Amendment by Edith Mastenbroek

Amendment 42
Recital D c (new)

Dc Whereas terrorism, and in particular international terrorism poses a global threat, and some organisations responsible for the threat operate as internationally organised networks,

Or. en

Amendment by Edith Mastenbroek

Amendment 43
Recital D d (new)

Dd. Whereas this threat in Europe mainly manifests itself in the form of self radicalising cells, seeking international contacts, but without any central control or joint strategy

Or. en

Amendment by Luciana Sbarbati

Amendment 44
Recital E

E. whereas, however, little is known about the radicalisation process and it needs to be researched in more detail and with greater preventive resources,

Or. it

Amendment by Edith Mastenbroek

Amendment 45
Recital E

E. Whereas little is known about the radicalisation process leading to the formation of such cells and it needs to be researched in more detail and with greater resources;

Or. en

Amendment by Edith Mastenbroek

Amendment 46
Recital E a (new)

Ea. whereas combating violent radicalization and recruitment for terrorism are crucial elements of the EU anti-terrorism strategy, and addressing the factors contributing to radicalization should be an integral element of the EU's external policies;

Or. en

Amendment by Edith Mastenbroek

Amendment 47
Recital E b (new)

Eb. whereas prevention through combating the factors which may lead to radicalisation is a key element of the Union's strategy to fight terrorism;

Or. en

Amendment by Edith Mastenbroek

Amendment 48
Recital E c (new)

Ec. whereas the preventive element of this strategy has been worked out in various policy ideas and measures, some of which may be described as prevention through repression of factors contributing to radicalisation;

Or. en

Amendment by Edith Mastenbroek

Amendment 49
Recital E d (new)

Ed. whereas policy suggestions aimed at the prevention of these factors are significantly less concrete compared to repressive measures, whereas implementing, monitoring and evaluating these policies is therefore bound to be much more difficult;

Or. en

Amendment by Edith Mastenbroek

Amendment 50
Recital E e (new)

Ee. whereas council and commission have chosen a horizontal strategy combining measures in various policy fields, and the parliamentary control mechanisms available at European level are insufficiently flexible to meet this horizontal approach;

Or. en

Amendment by Edith Mastenbroek

Amendment 51
Recital E f (new)

Ef. whereas the risks of terrorist recruitment and violence reflect merely part of the problems connected to radicalisation, since only a small number of individuals turn to violence;

Or. en

Amendment by Edith Mastenbroek

Amendment 52
Recital E g (new)

Eg. whereas the social consequences of radicalization are potentially wide and structural, and developing a strategy to prevent and combat the factors contributing to radicalization should therefore be a priority as such;

Or. en

Amendment by Edith Mastenbroek

Amendment 53
Recital E h (new)

Eh. Whereas the anger and frustration are factors contributing to the breeding ground for radicalisation, as well as social isolation and lack of trust in politics and democracy;

Or. en

Amendment by Edith Mastenbroek

Amendment 54
Recital E i (new)

Ei. Whereas terrorist organisations exploit the apparent inability of the international community to apply equal standards in the prevention of conflicts and promotion of human rights as motives and arguments for terrorist and radical recruitment;

Or. en

Amendment by Edith Mastenbroek

Amendment 55
Recital E j (new)

Ej. whereas radicalization and its consequences are challenges for the EU as a whole, but combating it requires a targeted and local response;

Or. en

Amendment by Edith Mastenbroek

Amendment 56
Recital E k (new)

Ek. whereas the phenomenon of radicalisation confronts Europe with a number of complex dilemma's, measures aimed at combating radicalization in general may differ substantially from measures preventing an individual from turning to violence, and effectively dealing with radicalized youth may demand in many cases an intensive individual approach;

Or. en

Amendment by Edith Mastenbroek

Amendment 57
Recital E l (new)

El. whereas the fight against violent radicalization and its causes is a responsibility of society as a whole, and a successful strategy depends on social unity based on solidarity and trust and the unity of democratic forces;

Or. en

Amendment by Kathalijne Maria Buitenweg, Jean Lambert, Tatjana Ždanoka

Amendment 58
Recital E a (new)

Ea. whereas violent resistance (extremism) is preceded by a process of radicalisation whereby (groups of) individuals gradually lose their faith in established society and the existing authorities, develop a political/cultural alternative and eventually arrive at a fully developed counter-thesis;

Or. nl

Amendment by Kathalijne Maria Buitenweg, Jean Lambert, Tatjana Ždanoka

Amendment 59
Recital E b (new)

Eb. whereas people are chiefly susceptible to radicalisation during (late) adolescence;

Or. nl

Amendment by Kathalijne Maria Buitenweg, Jean Lambert, Tatjana Ždanoka

Amendment 60
Recital E c (new)

Ec. whereas schools have a major influence on young people, since they are places for the acquisition of knowledge, the discussion of views, the propagation of values and the experience of authority;

Or. nl

Amendment by Ignasi Guardans Cambó

Amendment 61
Recital E a (new)

Ea. Whereas according to the Europol "EU Terrorism situation and trend report TE-SAT 2007", 498 attacks were carried out in 2006 in the EU Member States examined, that the vast majority of them were related to "Ethno-nationalist and Separatist Terrorism"(424), 55 were related to "Left-wing and Anarchist Terrorism", 1 to "Right-wing Terrorism" and 1 to "Islamist terrorism" (the failed German Trolley Bomb case), while 17 were of a non specified nature;

Or. en

Amendment by Ignasi Guardans Cambó

Amendment 62
Recital E b (new)

Eb. Whereas over 706 arrests carried out in the EU Member States examined, the majority of them were related to "Islamist terrorism" and to " Ethno-Nationalist and Separatist Terrorism" (257 and 226 respectively), 52 to " Left-Wing and Anarchist Terrorism" and 15 to " Right-Wing Terrorism";

Or. en

Amendment by Ignasi Guardans Cambó

Amendment 63
Recital Ec (new)

Ec. whereas it is essential when speaking of Islamist terrorism and radicalisation, to distinguish between the great majority of Muslims, especially those living in Europe, and a radical minority who despise human life and betray the principles in whose name they claim to act,

Or. es

Amendment by Ignasi Guardans Cambó

Amendment 64
Recital E d (new)

E d. whereas it is essential to dedicate all possible effort and necessary resources to ensure that no individuals are radicalised to the point where they come to lose respect for their own lives or see the society of which they are a part as an enemy,

Or. es

Amendment by Ignasi Guardans Cambó

Amendment 65
Recital E e (new)

E e. whereas in some cases this radicalisation of certain individuals can be produced by external factors, such as recruitment by terrorist groups, or by the influence of speeches and propaganda which are totally incompatible with the principles and values of a democratic society,

Or. es

Amendment by Ignasi Guardans Cambó

Amendment 66
Recital E f (new)

E f. whereas it is necessary to criminalise incitement to terrorism and concrete acts of apology for and glorification of terrorism throughout the EU,

Or. es

Amendment by Ignasi Guardans Cambó

Amendment 67
Recital E g (new)

E g. whereas Member States have the right to prevent the entry into or presence on their territory, subject to the necessary respect for fundamental rights and the application of the appropriate guarantees, of third-country nationals who contribute actively to promoting violence and whose speeches and actions imply contempt for the elementary rules of democratic coexistence,

Or. es

Amendment by Ignasi Guardans Cambó

Amendment 68
Recital E h (new)

E h. whereas Member States must mobilise all means to ensure the fullest possible integration into our society of all citizens and residents of the EU who wish to live together on a basis of peace and democracy, without discrimination of whatever kind based on race, religion or cultural differences,

Or. es

Amendment by Ignasi Guardans Cambó

Amendment 69
Recital E i (new)

Ei. Whereas it is important to fully analyse and understand the reasons, the grounds and processes leading to radicalisation and terrorism and to tackle them, and whereas the free debate about these issues and the possible solutions shall not be criminalized or censored,

Or. en

Amendment by Ignasi Guardans Cambó

Amendment 70
Recital F

Deleted

Or. es

Amendment by Kathalijne Maria Buitenweg, Jean Lambert, Tatjana Ždanoka

Amendment 71
Recital F

F. whereas, for some people, fundamentalism compensates for a lack of self-esteem and meaning, and is attractive for that reason;

Or. nl

Amendment by Giusto Catania

Amendment 72
Recital F

F. whereas if we are to prevent the radicalisation of individuals and their subsequent exploitation by terrorist groups, the legal authorities must give priority to dismantling the networks and monitoring all criminal activities, including those leading to recruitment, indoctrination and the diffusion of ideas inciting to the commitment of terrorist acts;

Or. it

Amendment by Edith Mastenbroek

Amendment 73
Recital F

F. whereas if we are to prevent the exploitation of individuals by terrorist groups, one of the priorities must be to dismantle the networks and arrest the individuals responsible for recruiting other individuals,

Or. en

Amendment by Ignasi Guardans Cambó

Amendment 74
Recital G

Deleted

Or. es

Amendment by Edith Mastenbroek

Amendment 75
Recital G

G. whereas a harmonisation at EU level of national antiterrorist legislation is far from being accomplished;

Or. en

Amendment by Luciana Sbarbati

Amendment 76
Recital G.

G. whereas, together with incitement to terrorism (which is already a crime at EU level), the glorification of (apology for) and justification of terrorism are factors which contribute to violent radicalisation and its diffusion,

Or. it

Amendment by Kathalijne Maria Buitenweg, Jean Lambert, Tatjana Ždanoka

Amendment 77
Recital G

G. Whereas incitement to terrorism is already a crime at EU level, and the glorification of (apology for) and justification of terrorism can be tackled via the ban on incitement to hatred;

Or. en

Amendment by Kathalijne Maria Buitenweg, Jean Lambert, Tatjana Ždanoka

Amendment 78
Recital H

Amendment 80
Recital H

Deleted

Or. es

Amendment by Edith Mastenbroek

Amendment 81
Recital H

H. whereas various member states have national legislation that criminalises the justification of terrorism;

Or. en

Amendment by Luciana Sbarbati

Amendment 82
Recital H

H. whereas glorification of (apology for) and justification of terrorism are not included in Framework Decision 2002/475/JHA; whereas those forms of behaviour must be considered as serious offences in all the Member States;

Or. it

Amendment by Edith Mastenbroek

Amendment 83
Recital H a (new)

Ha. Whereas several EU Member states have not yet transposed EU anti terrorist legislation in force, like the framework decision on the European Arrest Warrant;

Or. en

Amendment by Giusto Catania

Amendment 84
Recital H a (new)

H a. whereas the terrorist acts perpetrated in Europe in recent years, notably in London and Madrid, are in no way related to recent immigration trends;

Or. it

Amendment by Giusto Catania

Amendment 85
Recital H b (new)

H b. whereas the link often made by some press organs and political organisations between immigration and terrorism is an aberration and encourages a false analysis and reading of both immigration-related phenomena and the activities of terrorist organisations;

Or. it

Amendment by Ignasi Guardans Cambó

Amendment 86
Recital I

Deleted

Or. es

Amendment by Edith Mastenbroek

Amendment 87
Recital I

I. whereas the entry into and residence in EU territory of persons contributing to violent radicalisation and inciting others to commit terrorist acts is an aspect of the problem;

Or. en

Amendment by Luciana Sbarbati

Amendment 88
Recital I

I. whereas the entry into and residence in EU territory of persons contributing to radicalisation and inciting others to commit terrorist acts is the main target of the fight against violent radicalisation; whereas consideration must be given to adopting legal measures at EU level to harmonise, in all the Member States, the conditions governing the entry, residence and expulsion of such persons;

Or. it

Amendment by Giusto Catania

Amendment 89
Recital I

I. whereas the entry into and residence in the EU of persons contributing to radicalisation and inciting to terrorism must be a major concern of the fight against violent radicalisation;

Or. it

Amendment by Giusto Catania

Amendment 90
Recital I a (new)

I a. whereas intercultural and interreligious dialogue represent the best field for reclaiming the ground on which terrorist radicalism thrives,

Or. it

Amendment by Giusto Catania

Amendment 91
Recital I b (new)

I b. whereas the equation of Islam with terrorism, as advanced in some press circles and by certain politicians and intellectuals, must be absolutely rejected, as it contributes to an erroneous analysis of the nature of terrorism,

Or. it

Amendment by Edith Mastenbroek

Amendment 92
Recital I a (new)

I a. whereas consideration could be given to adopting legal measures at EU level to harmonise the approach towards the activities of such individuals and the possible need for expulsion;

Or. en

Amendment by Edith Mastenbroek, Stavros Lambrinidis

Amendment 93
Recital I b (new)

I b. whereas repressive measures will not be effective and may even be counterproductive if they are not combined with offering those individuals that are especially vulnerable for radicalisation and recruitment a positive perspective and position in society;

Or. en

Amendment by Edith Mastenbroek

Amendment 94
Recital I c (new)

I c. whereas it will adopt a more proactive and indebt horizontal approach to asses, debate and evaluate the variety of measures of the EU action plan from an anti-radicalisation perspective, involving all relevant Parliamentary Committees,

Amendment by Giusto Catania

Amendment 96
Recital J

J. whereas in the case of Jihadist terrorism it is also necessary, in order to prevent radicalisation, to encourage dialogue between Member State authorities and the Muslim community, so as to promote Muslims' participation in society and ensure their full integration into our societies,

Or. it

Amendment by Luciana Sbarbati

Amendment 97
Recital J

J. whereas, regarding Jihadist terrorism, to prevent radicalisation it is also necessary to encourage dialogue between authorities in the Member States and non-radical Muslim communities, encouraging the latter's participation in society and their involvement in positive actions for ensuring their full integration into our societies,

Or. it

Amendment by Edith Mastenbroek

Amendment 98
Recital J

J. whereas (deletion) to prevent radicalisation it is (deletion) necessary to encourage dialogue between authorities in the Member States and the communities concerned, encouraging the latter's' participation (deletion) and ensuring their full integration into society,

Or. en

Amendment by Kathalijne Maria Buitenweg, Jean Lambert, Tatjana Ždanoka

Amendment 99
Recital J

J. whereas, (deletion) to prevent radicalisation it is also necessary to encourage effective dialogue between authorities in the Member States and religious communities, ensuring the latter's' participation in society (deletion), as well as full and effective equality for persons belonging to such communities,

Or. en

d) prevention of social isolation, encourage and support mosques, schools and other organisations which could form a safety net to maintain contact with radicalized youth

Or. en

Amendment by Edith Mastenbroek

Amendment 105
Paragraph 1 d (new)

1d. Recommends the European Commission to stimulate the search for best practices by facilitating local experiments and innovative practical initiatives by organisations and individuals working closely with the groups that are most vulnerable to radicalization, and coordinating exchange of these best practices by organisations active on the neighbourhood level of Member States

Or. en

Amendment by Kathalijne Maria Buitenweg, Jean Lambert, Tatjana Ždanoka

Amendment 106
Paragraph 1 a (new)

1a. Considers, in counteracting radicalisation, that the essential contrast is between extremists and democrats, and that there is in no sense a clash between differing cultures or religions;

Or. nl

Amendment by Kathalijne Maria Buitenweg, Jean Lambert, Tatjana Ždanoka

Amendment 107
Paragraph 1 b (new)

1b. Considers that it is often hard for young people, searching for an interpretation of Islam they can regard as the true one, to come into contact with more pluralistic interpretations of Islam; consequently advises Member States to look seriously at the possibility of promoting courses for imams, subsidising translations, websites and other factors which will draw young people's attention to modern Islam too, with a view to contributing to the freedom of religion;

Or. nl

Amendment by Edith Mastenbroek

Amendment 148
Paragraph 3, indent 11 a (new)

- It is necessary to step up the efforts for the better cooperation in the frameworks of the respective EU internal policies and institutional structures, and between the union and third countries, especially those addressed with the European Neighbourhood Policy, for the reaching of consensus for further approximation, inside the EU and in coordination with the external partners, of the relevant criminal law legislation governing the fight against terrorism. That approximation should be based on an expert, professional basis and in full respect to the principle of the dual criminality, paying special attention to the need for a nuanced approach in full respect to the cultural traditions of other countries, including those with Islamic legal system.
Using the present opportunity the EP emphasizes the fact that the approximation needed for the unproblematic application of the dual criminality principle is of crucial importance for realization of an effective policy in the domain of the judicial and legal assistance".
