EXPLANATORY MEMORANDUM

1. CONTEXT OF THE PROPOSAL

• Reasons for and objectives of the proposal

Strengthening fairness of the Internal Market has been one of the priorities of the mandate of the Juncker Commission¹. On 17 November 2017, the European Parliament, the Council and the Commission jointly proclaimed at the Social Summit in Gothenburg the European Pillar of Social Rights². The Pillar sets out a number of key principles and rights to support fair and well-functioning labour markets and welfare systems. It is designed as a compass for a renewed process of convergence towards better working and living conditions across the Union, ensuring the citizens equal opportunities and access to the labour market, fair working conditions and social protection and inclusion. Ensuring fair labour mobility in Europe is central to this objective.

Cross-border labour mobility in the EU benefits individuals, economies and societies as a whole. From the EU's policies and priorities, the one that citizens support most is the free movement of EU citizens, encompassing the possibility for citizens to live, work, study and do business anywhere in the EU³. The free movement of workers and the freedom to provide services within the Union depend on clear, fair and effectively enforced rules on cross-border labour mobility and social security coordination. To this end, the EU has developed an extensive body of legislation regulating free movement of workers, posting of workers and social security coordination. The Juncker Commission has submitted several proposals to improve this regulatory framework⁴.

However, concerns remain regarding compliance with and effective and efficient enforcement of EU rules, which risks jeopardising trust and fairness in the Internal Market. In particular, concerns have been voiced in relation to mobile workers being vulnerable to abuse or being denied their rights, as well as businesses operating in an uncertain or unclear business environment and unequal playing field. Cross-border labour mobility has notably increased in recent years. In 2017, 17 million citizens lived or worked in a Member State other than that of their nationality. This figure almost doubled compared to a decade ago. Postings have increased by 68% from 2010 to 2.3 million in 2016.⁵ 1.4 million EU citizens commute to go to work in another Member State⁶. There are also over 2 million workers in the road transport sector who cross intra-EU borders on a daily basis to transport goods or passengers. There is a need for effective cooperation between national authorities and for concerted administrative action to manage the increasingly European labour market.

The European Parliament has, on several occasions, underlined the need both to reinforce controls and coordination between and by Member States⁷, including through strengthening of information exchanges between labour inspectorates⁸, and to actively support the exercise of free movement rights⁹. The Council has also stressed the need to improve administrative cooperation and develop assistance and information exchanges in the context of fighting fraud related to the posting of workers, while emphasising the importance of clear and transparent information for service providers and workers¹⁰.

Against this backdrop, in his State of the Union address 2017¹¹, President Juncker proposed the establishment of a 'European Labour Authority' to ensure that EU rules on labour mobility are enforced in a fair, simple, and effective way. This proposal aims at setting up such a European Labour Authority – hereafter referred to as 'the Authority' – in the form of a decentralised EU agency to address the following main challenges:

- Inadequate support and guidance for individuals and businesses in cross-border situations, including incomplete or sparse information available to the public concerning their rights and obligations;
- Insufficient access to and sharing of information between national authorities responsible for different domains of labour mobility and social security coordination;
- Insufficient capacity of national authorities to organise cooperation with authorities across borders;
- Weak or absent mechanisms for joint cross-border enforcement activities;
- The lack of a dedicated cross-border mediation mechanism between Member States across all domains of labour mobility and social security coordination;
- Insufficient cooperation set-up at EU level in this area.

The overarching objective of the initiative is to contribute to ensuring fair labour mobility in the Internal Market. In this context, the proposal aims at:

- Improving access to information by individuals and employers about their rights and obligations in the areas of labour mobility and social security coordination as well as access to relevant services;
- Strengthening operational cooperation between authorities in the cross-border enforcement of relevant Union law, including facilitating joint inspections;
- Providing mediation and facilitating solutions in cases of disputes between national authorities and cross-border labour market disruptions, such as a restructuring of companies affecting several Member States.

Concretely, the Authority will be entrusted with a number of operational tasks, namely to provide relevant information and services to individuals and employers, as well as support Member States in cooperation, information exchange, concerted and joint inspections, risk assessment, capacity building, mediation, and cooperation in the event of cross-border labour market disruptions. Existing EU structures and tools in the area of cross-border labour mobility and social security coordination will be integrated or complemented by an Authority providing Member States with unprecedented operational and technical support.

The Authority will benefit to all individuals who are subject to Union rules in the area of cross-border labour mobility and social security coordination, concretely workers, self-employed persons or other individuals who are Union citizens or third-country nationals legally resident in the Union and in a cross-border situation. This includes posted workers, EU Blue Card holders, intra-corporate transferees and long-term residents as long as they are subject to the above mentioned rules. It will also benefit companies engaged in cross-border activities, including for recruitment purposes.

- Consistency with existing policy provisions in the policy area

The Authority will help to ensure that workers' and citizens' rights to equal treatment and access to employment opportunities and social security are guaranteed in cross-border situations. It will also provide transparency for businesses on local labour standards throughout the Internal Market. Finally, it will support cooperation between national authorities to ensure that workers' and citizens' social rights are respected and to prevent fraud and abuse.

The Commission has adopted a number of initiatives and proposals to promote fair labour mobility, in particular, the revisions of the Posting of Workers Directive¹² and of the Regulations on the Coordination of Social Security Systems¹³ as well as the package "Europe on the Move", including the lex specialis on the posting of workers in international road transport operations¹⁴ and the revision of social and market rules in road transport¹⁵. These recent initiatives follow in the path of previous legislative proposals, such as the Directives on enforcement of posting of workers¹⁶ and free movement of workers¹⁷, the Regulation on EURES (European network of employment services)¹⁸ and initiatives such as the set-up of a European Platform to tackle undeclared work¹⁹.

Within the context of the preparations of these proposals and discussions during their legislative procedure, the need for a strengthened framework for the application and enforcement of existing rules became evident. The proposal of a European Labour Authority aims at filling this gap.

Establishing the proposed Authority will allow to concentrate tasks some of which are currently dispersed over several committees and bodies and introduce operational support across the areas of labour mobility and social security coordination, thereby increasing the consistency of EU policy on issues of cross-border mobility (for details, see below the section 'Regulatory fitness and simplification').

The proposed Authority will be complementary and ensure consistency with the activities of the four agencies in the area of employment and social policy: the European Foundation for the Improvement of Living and Working Conditions (Eurofound), the European Centre for the Development of Vocational Training (Cedefop), the European Training Foundation (ETD), and the European Agency for Safety and Health at Work (EU OSHA).

The proposed Regulation will contribute to the implementation of the principles and rights defined in the European Pillar of Social Rights, notably by promoting awareness of opportunities for training and life-long learning for mobile citizens as well as active support to employment and, more generally, through the efficient and effective enforcement of Union law on labour mobility and social security coordination as well as of collective agreements implementing such Union law.

- Consistency with other Union policies

This initiative complements the ongoing work to achieve the goals set out in the Political Guidelines: A New Start for Europe²⁰ in relation to 'Priority 4: a Deeper and Fairer Internal Market with a Strengthened Industrial Base', and in particular the Internal Market Strategy²¹. In practice, labour mobility is a valuable means of ensuring a more efficient allocation of resources between and within sectors, reducing unemployment and addressing skills mismatches. This initiative also complements Priority 1 of the Political Guidelines ('A New Boost for Jobs, Growth and Investment') by creating a more conducive regulatory environment to support a climate of entrepreneurship and job creation.

Furthermore, the Authority is consistent with the Digital Single Market strategic objective of modernising public administration, achieving cross-border interoperability and facilitating easy interaction with individuals. In this context, it complements the Commission's proposal for a single digital gateway²² by aiming to facilitate the provision of high quality content and services to the public through the gateway, based on the existing Your Europe Portal. This initiative will also build on the experience of the informal problem solving network SOLVIT²³. In particular, the initiative will feed into and complement where relevant the information and services provided through the single digital gateway. It will also promote the access to SOLVIT by individuals and employers to solve their differences and build on the evidence gathered from that source to identify recurring problems in the areas under its scope.

Moreover, this initiative will draw on good practices in the field of cross-border cooperation identified by the 'Border Focal Point'²⁴ so as to help unlock the full economic potential of EU border regions.

2. LEGAL BASIS, SUBSIDIARITY AND PROPORTIONALITY

• Legal basis

The proposal is based on Articles 46, 48, 53(1), 62 and 91(1) TFEU, focusing on the free movement of workers, the coordination of social security systems, the take-up and pursuit of activities as self-employed persons, the freedom to provide services and common rules applicable to international transport.

• Subsidiarity

The subsidiarity principle applies since the proposal does not fall under the exclusive competence of the EU. The objectives of the proposal cannot be sufficiently achieved by the Member States at national, regional or local level and can be better achieved at Union level for the following reasons:

- Providing high quality and up-to-date information and services to the public about their rights and obligations in cross-border situations needs to be coordinated at Union level in order to ensure a consistent, clear, and efficient approach.
- The application of Union law in the fields of cross border labour mobility and the coordination of social security systems relies on cooperation between Member States, meaning that no Member State can act alone.
- In order to increase synergies and support cooperation between Member States in the application of Union law across the fields of labour mobility and social security coordination, to ensure legal certainty for administrations and individuals alike and to arrive at a shared understanding of enforcement needs, it is also necessary to develop a coordinated and joint approach at Union level instead of relying on what can be a complex network of bilateral or multilateral agreements.

• Proportionality

The initiative is a proportional response to the need for operational support and does not go beyond what is necessary to achieve this goal. It does not impose new obligations on Member States, individuals or employers; rather it focuses on supporting cross-border mobility and creating new opportunities. The proposal does not impinge on national decision-making, legislation, or enforcement activities, which remain the competence of Member States. Moreover, it leaves to a large extent to the discretion of Member States how they make use of the possibilities put in place by the initiative.

The Impact Assessment Report accompanying the proposed Regulation²⁵ outlines how the proposal achieves the best balance in meeting the objectives laid out by the initiative, ensuring benefits (positive impacts) for national authorities, individuals and employers without significantly increasing costs. It also reports on the overall support of stakeholders consulted in the lead-up to this proposal.

• Choice of the instrument

The proposed instrument is a regulation on the establishment and functioning of a European Labour Authority. The regulation will build on the Common Approach on EU decentralised agencies endorsed in 2012 by the European Parliament, the Council and the Commission²⁶. A regulation provides the legal certainty required for setting up the Authority, which could not be achieved by means of other legal instruments.

3. RESULTS OF EX-POST EVALUATIONS, STAKEHOLDER CONSULTATIONS AND IMPACT ASSESSMENTS

- Ex-post evaluations/fitness checks of existing legislation

The proposal for a European Labour Authority was developed in synergy with ongoing legislative proposals in the related areas of posting, social security coordination, and the setting-up of a single digital gateway. In this regard, the proposal builds on the evidence collected in the preparatory process associated with these proposals, including impact assessments, as well as discussions during the legislative procedure. An important point which emerged from these processes was the need for operational support, in terms of improved cross-border cooperation and increased transparency and awareness, in order to improve the application and enforcement of these rules in the field of labour mobility.

Similarly, the proposal has taken note of the ongoing evaluation of the above-mentioned four EU Agencies in the employment policy area. That evaluation consists of an individual assessment of each agency, a comparative perspective and a prospective assessment regarding the future functioning of the four agencies. The four agencies have quite different functions than the proposed Authority since they are predominantly research-centred and do not have a cross-border focus. Nonetheless, certain preliminary elements of the evaluation have contributed to this proposal, most notably with regard to the organisation of the Authority's tasks and governance. The Impact Assessment Report accompanying this proposal examines the possible interaction between the proposed Authority and the existing four agencies. The periodic evaluation of the Authority will allow exploring further synergies and streamlining opportunities with Agencies active in the area of employment and social policy.

In its Special Report on the Free Movement of Workers, the European Court of Auditors²⁷ included recommendations to improve awareness about the tools of the Commission aimed to support persons who work abroad, to further enhance the EURES Portal, and to make better use of data in the design of initiatives and funding in this field. These aspects have fed into the preparation of the current proposal.

- Stakeholder consultations

In order to explore the views of stakeholders (including of citizens, national authorities, social partners and civil society) on the establishment of a European Labour Authority, the Commission organised an internet-based open public consultation on its main parameters from 27 November 2017 to 7 January 2018. The public consultation collected a total of 8,809 replies, out of which 8,420 were identical – stemming from a campaign initiated by the European Trade Union Confederation – and 389 were unique replies.

Overall, respondents to the public consultation expressed strong support for a new Authority, including when considering unique replies. The results largely supported the Commission's analysis of the main challenges. The vast majority of respondents (over seventy percent) were of the opinion that existing cooperation between national authorities is insufficient to ensure effective implementation of EU rules in the field of cross-border mobility. A similarly large proportion of respondents considered that insufficient access to information and transparency on cross-border mobility rules is a problem for individuals and businesses. The possible functions proposed for the new Authority also received broad support, in particular supporting systematic cooperation and information exchange between national authorities.

The Commission also conducted a series of targeted consultations of EU bodies in the field of labour mobility and social security coordination. A dedicated hearing with social partners at EU level was organised on 11 December 2017 and a strategic dialogue meeting with EU level civil society organisations was held on 15 December 2017. In addition to oral contributions during dedicated meetings, written position papers were submitted by organisations and representatives taking part in these targeted consultations.

Targeted consultations yielded varied results. Overall respondents welcomed the creation of a new Authority which would focus on improving cooperation between national authorities by facilitating the exchange of information and good practice. At the same time, respondents underlined that the new Authority should fully respect Treaty-based national competencies, should not impose additional reporting requirements on Member States, and should not complicate or duplicate existing administrative structures. Many of the stakeholders taking part in the targeted consultation believed that the mandate and objectives of the future Authority needed to be specified along with its link to existing structures and instruments.

The details of stakeholders' views can be found in Annex 2 of the Impact Assessment Report. The outcomes of these consultations, including discussions within the Administrative Commission for the Coordination of Social Security Systems, the European Platform to enhance cooperation in tackling undeclared work, the Committee of Experts on Posting of Workers, the Technical Committee on the Free Movement of Workers, the European Network of Public Employment Services, and informal exchanges with Ministers during the lunch debate of the Employment, Social Policy, Health and Consumer Affairs (EPSCO) Council meeting of October 2017 were duly taken into account when preparing this proposal.

- Collection and use of expertise

In preparing this initiative and the Impact Assessment Report accompanying the proposed Regulation, the Commission made use of a wide range of secondary data published by the EU institutions (the European Parliament, the Commission and the Court of Auditors), dedicated Commission services (Your Europe Advice, SOLVIT), other international organisations (OECD), relevant academic research and studies by think-tanks. It also made use of its internal policy expertise and analytical capacities, including for the assessment of budgetary impacts.

The Commission also relied on primary data collected for the purpose of this initiative. It made use of existing Framework Contracts to gather evidence. This included an ad hoc request to the Network of legal experts on intra EU-mobility (FreSsco) on the capacities of labour inspectorates to deal with cross-border cases. It also included a request to a consulting service to develop case studies on the basis of qualitative interviews on resources for cross-border cooperation in the enforcement area.

- Impact assessment

In line with its policy on Better Regulation, the Commission carried out an Impact Assessment of potential policy and delivery options in preparation of this initiative. This work was supported by structured consultation within the Commission via an Inter-Service Steering Group.

The Impact Assessment was presented to and discussed with the Regulatory Scrutiny Board (RSB)²⁸. Recommendations made by the RSB in its negative opinion of 9 February 2018 were addressed by elaborating further on the scope and rationale of the initiative and on the views of stakeholders, and developing further the analysis regarding the options under assessment and the way in which the initiative can fit into the existing governance structure on labour mobility and social security coordination, while at the same time fostering synergies and simplification. To address the reservations raised by the Board in its (positive) opinion of 21 February 2018, the Impact Assessment Report has further clarified how the setting up of a new Authority would reorganise the landscape of existing committees and structures with the aim of reducing complexity and avoiding duplications, addressed the potential relation of the new Authority with existing Union Agencies in the field of employment, and strengthened the explanation of the budget estimates associated with the preferred option²⁹.

Three policy options were considered for the proposed Authority, namely, (1) a support option, (2) an operational option, and (3) a supervisory option. Each option proposed the same set of tasks for the Authority; however they varied in degree of powers attributed to it. The tasks proposed for the Authority are: (i) labour mobility services for individuals and businesses; (ii) cooperation and exchange of information between national authorities, (iii) support to joint inspections; (iv) labour market analyses and risk assessment; (v) support to capacity building; (vi) mediation between national authorities; (vii) facilitation of cooperation between relevant stakeholders in the event of cross-border labour market disruptions. Similarly, three delivery options were considered: (1) the Commission takes up some operational tasks and a European Network coordinating the existing EU labour mobility bodies is established; (2) a new Authority is established building on the existing EU mobility bodies, (3) a new Authority is established building on an existing EU Agency in the area of employment and social policy.

As part of the Impact Assessment, the policy and delivery options were assessed against the criteria of effectiveness, efficiency and coherence. As a result of this analysis, a combination of the operational option (policy option 2) to be performed through a new Authority that builds on existing EU level mobility bodies (delivery option 2) turned out to be the most efficient and effective way to meet the objectives of this initiative. It allows ensuring positive impacts for national authorities, individuals and employers without significantly increasing costs while overcoming the lack of operational support within the existing EU cooperation framework, which were two important concerns raised by stakeholders.

- Regulatory fitness and simplification

The proposal to establish the Authority will enhance the EU institutional landscape in the area of cross-border mobility, in order to improve and simplify current forms of cooperation, and eventually to facilitate the work of Member States and the Commission.

Today, this institutional landscape includes several EU structures ('EU bodies') where national administrations cooperate and exchange best practices. These EU bodies include: the EURES European Coordination Office, the Technical Committee and the Advisory Committee on the Free Movement of Workers, the Committee of Experts on Posting of Workers, the European Platform tackling undeclared work, the Administrative Commission for the Coordination of Social Security Systems and all its subcommittees (including the Technical Commission and the Audit Board created by legislation, and a Conciliation Board set up by the Administrative Commission itself), and the Advisory Committee for the Coordination of Social Security Systems.

²⁹ See Annex 1 of the Impact Assessment Report SWD(2018)68 for details on the consultation of the Regulatory Scrutiny Board.

The new Authority will pool technical and operational tasks of the above-mentioned EU bodies into a permanent structure with a view to achieving improved and more efficient output on the basis of a strengthened forum for cooperation and joint investigative activities. In this context, the Authority will:

- take over the management of the EURES European Coordination Office, currently ensured by the Commission;
- replace the Technical Committee on the Free Movement of Workers;
- replace the Committee of Experts on Posting of Workers;
- replace the Technical Commission, the Audit Board, and the Conciliation Board of the Administrative Commission for the Coordination of Social Security Systems;
- replace the European Platform on tackling undeclared work.

In areas of social security coordination, the Authority will closely cooperate with the Administrative Commission for the Coordination of Social Security Systems regarding the regulatory task for which that committee remains competent. In addition, the Authority will benefit from any input that social partners' and governments' representatives at national level provide within the Advisory Committee for the Coordination of Social Security Systems and the Advisory Committee on the Free Movement of Workers.

This new setup will simplify the institutional landscape and foster synergies across the various aspects of cross-border mobility within the Authority's scope. This will further support the consistent and effective application of Union law, improve efficiency, and deliver more and better quality results compared to the current institutional setup, where EU bodies largely operate in silos, focus on a specific legal act or area under their responsibility, lack an operation dimension, mostly meet only a couple of times a year and carry out certain overlapping activities.

The initiative also aims to streamline the way in which information and services are provided to the public about rights, obligations and opportunities related to cross-border labour mobility, thus simplifying access to such information and services for individuals and employers.

The proposal aims to further enhance the digitalisation of procedures and is complementary to the existing and planned initiatives in the field, such as the electronic data exchange between national authorities in the field of social security coordination under implementation by the Electronic Exchange of Social Security Information (EESSI) system, the Internal Market Information (IMI) system, as well as the Your Europe Portal and the single digital gateway proposed by the Commission.

- Fundamental rights

As the Authority should contribute to the clear, fair and effective enforcement of Union rules on cross-border labour mobility and social security coordination it will support the protection and fruition of the fundamental rights covered by such rules, such as the free movement of persons and workers (Articles 15 and 45 of the Charter of Fundamental Rights of the European Union, hereafter referred to as 'the Charter'), the right of access to placement services (Article 29 of the Charter), and the freedom to provide services (Article 16 of the Charter). It would also support the exercise of rights across borders in the field of fair and just working conditions, social security and healthcare (Articles 31, 34 and 35 of the Charter) and non-discrimination (Article 21 of the Charter).

With regards to the protection of personal data (Article 8 of the Charter), the provisions of Regulation (EU) No 679/2016 (General Data Protection Regulation)³⁰ and Regulation (EC) No 45/2001³¹ apply to the processing of personal data under this proposal. In compliance with these rules, any processing of personal data will be limited to what is necessary and proportionate. Data will be collected for specified, explicit and legitimate purposes and not further processed in a manner that is incompatible with those purposes.

Along with the other initiatives proposed by the Commission under this mandate, this proposal also helps the Commission and the Member States implement the principles and rights defined in the European Pillar of Social Rights that support fair and well-functioning labour markets and welfare systems.

4. BUDGETARY IMPLICATIONS

Under the preferred combined option identified in the impact assessment, the EU budgetary total costs of the Authority are estimated to be 50.9 million per year at cruising speed expected to be reached by 2023. The costs under this Multiannual Financial Framework (2019-2020) will be met partially through redeployment from existing activities currently implemented under the EU Programme for Employment and Social Innovation (EaSI) and autonomous lines under Employment and Transport remit (70%), partially through the mobilisation of the margin of Heading 1a (30%). Existing activities shifted to the Authority will not be discontinued; their implementation will be shifted from the Commission to the Authority as soon as this becomes operational. As regards staff, the Authority would require 69 establishment plan posts, 60 seconded national experts and 15 contract agents. Details on the financial and staff needs can be found in the attached Legislative Financial Statements. There will be minimum requirements on national budgets through the impact of the proposal on the EU budget. It is not possible to exactly quantify the impacts on administrations, but case studies indicate that such impact will be positive as better rule enforcement will allow national enforcement bodies to capture previously unpaid social contributions and benefit from operational support from the Authority.

The proposal includes an evaluation clause to assess the mandate and tasks of the Authority every 5 years, providing for the possibility to progressively extend the scope of its activities and to scale-up the Authority.

5. OTHER ELEMENTS

- Implementation plans and monitoring, evaluation and reporting arrangements

A dedicated monitoring framework described in the Impact Assessment Report accompanying the proposal will inform, on the basis of a number of indicators, on progress achieved in attaining the objectives of the Regulation. The requirements and timeline of the monitoring framework will be subject to further adjustment in the course of the legislative and implementing process.

³⁰ Regulation (EU) 2016/679 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 27 April 2016 on the protection of natural persons with regard to the processing of personal data and on the free movement of such data, and repealing Directive 95/46/EC (General Data Protection Regulation) (OJ L 119 of 4.5.2016 p. 1).

³¹ Regulation (EC) No 45/2001 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 18 December 2000 on the protection of individuals with regard to the processing of personal data by the Community institutions and bodies and on the free movement of such data (OJ L 8, 12.1.2001, p. 1).

The Commission will evaluate the Regulation five years after its entry into force in line with the requirements of the Financial Regulation³² and Better Regulation Guidelines³³. The evaluation will particularly focus on the criteria set out in the Better Regulation Guidelines, i.e. effectiveness, efficiency, coherence, EU value added and relevance, in view of any review or update of the Regulation.

Article 1 sets out the subject matter and policy areas that fall under its scope.

Article 2 contains the main objectives of the Authority, with its point a) explaining the objectives towards the public including individuals and employers, point b) explaining the role towards Member States, and point c) referring to its role to mediate and facilitate the solution of cross-border disputes between national authorities or labour market disruptions.

Article 3 provides for the Authority's legal status.

Article 4 will indicate the seat of the future Authority, once it has been decided by the Member States before the end of the legislative procedure leading to the adoption of this proposal.

establishing a European Labour Authority

(text with relevance for the EEA and for Switzerland)

THE EUROPEAN PARLIAMENT AND THE COUNCIL OF THE EUROPEAN UNION,

Having regard to the Treaty on the Functioning of the European Union, and in particular Article 46, Article 48, Article 53(1), Article 62 and Article 91(1) thereof,

Having regard to the proposal from the European Commission,

After transmission of the draft legislative act to the national parliaments,

Having regard to the opinion of the European Economic and Social Committee³⁴,

Having regard to the opinion of the Committee of the Regions³⁵,

Acting in accordance with the ordinary legislative procedure,

Whereas:

- (1) The free movement of workers, freedom of establishment and freedom to provide services are fundamental principles of the internal market of the Union, enshrined in the Treaty on the Functioning of the European Union (TFEU).
- (2) Pursuant to Article 3 TEU, the Union is to work for a highly competitive social market economy, aiming at full employment and social progress and promote social justice and protection. In accordance with Article 9 TFEU, the Union, in defining and implementing its policies and activities, is to take into account requirements linked to, inter alia, the promotion of a high level of employment, the guarantee of an adequate social protection, the fight against social exclusion, and the promotion of a high level of education, training and the protection of human health.
- (3) The European Pillar of Social Rights was jointly proclaimed by the European Parliament, the Council and the Commission at the Social Summit in Gothenburg on 17 November 2017. That Social Summit recalled the need to put people first, in order to further develop the social dimension of the Union, and to promote convergence through efforts at all levels, as confirmed during the conclusions of the European Council of 14 December 2017.
- (4) As outlined in their Joint Declaration on the legislative priorities for 2018-2019, the European Parliament, the Council and the Commission are committed to taking action to reinforce the social dimension of the Union, by working on improving the coordination of social security

- (5) A European Labour Authority (the ‘Authority’) should be established in order to help strengthen fairness and trust in the Single Market. To that effect, the Authority should support the Member States and the Commission in strengthening access to information for individuals and employers about their rights and obligations in cross-border labour mobility situations as well as access to relevant services, support compliance and cooperation between the Member States to ensure the effective application of the Union law in these areas, and mediate and facilitate a solution in case of cross-border disputes or labour market disruptions.
- (6) The Authority should perform its activities in the areas of cross-border labour mobility and social security coordination, including free movement of workers, posting of workers and highly mobile services. It should also enhance cooperation between Member States in tackling undeclared work. In cases where the Authority, in the course of the performance of its activities, becomes aware of suspected irregularities, including in areas of Union law beyond its scope, such as violations of working conditions, health and safety rules, or the employment of illegally staying third-country nationals, it should be able to report them and cooperate on these matters with the Commission, competent Union bodies, and national authorities where appropriate.
- (7) The Authority should contribute to facilitating the free movement of workers governed by Regulation (EU) No 492/2011 of the European Parliament and of the Council³⁹, Directive 2014/54/EU of the European Parliament and the Council⁴⁰ and Regulation (EU) 2016/589 of the European Parliament and the Council⁴¹. services, such as Your Europe Advice, and taking full advantage and ensuring consistency with the Your Europe portal, which will form the backbone of the future single digital gateway⁵³.

- (12) For these purposes, the Authority should cooperate with other relevant Union initiatives and networks, in particular the European Network of Public Employment Services (PES)⁵⁴, the European Enterprise Network⁵⁵, the Border Focal Point⁵⁶ and SOLVIT⁵⁷, as well as with relevant national services such as the bodies to promote equal treatment and to support Union workers and members of their family, designated by Member States under Directive 2014/54/EU, and national contact points designated under Directive 2011/24/EU of the European Parliament and of the Council⁵⁸ to provide information on healthcare. The Authority should also explore synergies with the proposed European services e-card⁵⁹, notably with regard to those cases in which Member States opt for the submission of declarations regarding posted workers through the e-card platform. The Authority should replace the Commission in managing the European network of employment services ('EURES') European Coordination Office established pursuant to Regulation (EU) No 2016/589, including the definition of user needs and business requirements for the effectiveness of the EURES portal and related IT services, but excluding the IT provision, and the operation and development of the IT infrastructure, which will continue to be ensured by the Commission.
- (13) In view of the fair, simple and effective application of Union law, the Authority should support cooperation and timely exchange of information between Member States. These should take place at the request of Member States or upon their agreement to the Authority's suggestion. This should involve carrying out labour market analyses and studies, as well as peer reviews. The authority should monitor potential imbalances in terms of skills and cross-border labour flows, including their possible impact on territorial cohesion. The Authority should also support the risk assessment referred to in Article 10 of Directive 2014/67/EU. The Authority should ensure synergies and complementarity with other Union Agencies or services or networks. This should include seeking input from SOLVIT and similar services on recurring problems encountered by individuals and businesses in the exercise of their rights in the areas under the scope of the Authority. The Authority should also facilitate and streamline data collection activities provided for by the relevant Union laws within its scope. This does not entail the creation of new reporting obligations for Member States.
- (16) To strengthen the capacity of national authorities and improve consistency in the application of Union law within its scope, the Authority should provide operational assistance to national authorities, including by developing practical guidelines, establishing training and peer learning programmes, promoting mutual assistance projects, facilitating staff exchanges such as those referred to in Article 8 of Directive 2014/67/EU, and supporting Member States in organising awareness-raising campaigns informing individuals and employers of their rights and obligations. The Authority should promote the exchange, dissemination and uptake of good practices.
- (17) The Authority should provide a platform for resolving disputes between Member States in relation to the application of Union law that falls within its scope. It should build on dialogue and conciliation mechanisms that are currently in place in the area of social security coordination, which are valued by Member States⁶⁰ and their importance is recognised by the Court of Justice⁶¹. Member States should be able to refer cases to the Authority for mediation according to standard procedures put in place for this purpose. The Authority should only deal with disputes between Member States, while individuals and employers facing difficulties with exercising their Union rights should continue to have at their disposal the national and Union services dedicated to dealing with such cases, such as the SOLVIT network to which the Authority should refer such cases. The SOLVIT network should also be able to refer to the Authority for its consideration cases in which the problem cannot be solved due to differences between national administrations.
- (18) To facilitate the management of labour market adjustments, the Authority should facilitate cooperation among relevant stakeholders in order to address labour market disruptions affecting more than one Member State, such as cases of restructuring or major projects impacting employment in border regions.

- (33) The Advisory Committee for the Coordination of Social Security Systems established by Regulation (EC) No 883/2004 and the Advisory Committee on the Free Movement of Workers established pursuant to Regulation (EU) No 492/2011 provide a forum for consultation of social partners and government representatives at national level. The Authority should contribute to their work and may participate in their meetings.
- (34) In order to reflect this new institutional set-up, Regulations (EC) No 883/2004, (EC) No 987/2009, (EU) No 492/2011, and (EU) 2016/589 should be amended, and Decision 2009/17/EC and Decision (EU) 2016/344 should be repealed.
- (35) Respect for the diversity of national industrial relations systems as well as the autonomy of social partners is explicitly recognised by the TFEU. Taking part in the activities of the Authority is without prejudice to the Member States' competences, obligations and responsibilities under, inter alia, relevant and applicable International Labour Organization (ILO) conventions, such as Convention No 81 concerning Labour Inspection in Industry and Commerce, and to the Member States' powers to regulate, mediate or monitor national industrial relations, in particular on the exercise of the right to collective bargaining and to take collective action.
- (36) Since the objectives of this Regulation to support the free movement of workers and services and to contribute to strengthening fairness in the internal market cannot be sufficiently achieved by the Member States acting in an uncoordinated manner, but can rather, by reason of the cross-border nature of those activities and the need for increased cooperation between Member States, be better achieved at Union level, the Union may adopt measures in accordance with the principle of subsidiarity as set out in Article 5 of the Treaty on European Union. In accordance with the principle of proportionality, this Regulation does not go beyond what is necessary in order to achieve those objectives.
- (37) This Regulation respects the fundamental rights and observes the principles recognised in particular by the Charter of Fundamental Rights of the European Union, as referred to in Article 6 of the Treaty on European Union, ⁶⁸ Commission Decision 2009/17/EC of 19 December 2008 setting up the Committee of Experts on Posting of Workers (OJ L 8, 13.1.2009, p. 26).

⁶⁹ Decision (EU) 2016/344 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 9 March 2016 on establishing a European Platform to enhance cooperation in tackling undeclared work (OJ L 65, 11.3.2016, p. 12).

- The proposal/initiative relates to an action redirected towards a new action

1.4. Objective(s)

1.4.1. The Commission's multiannual strategic objective(s) targeted by the proposal/initiative

The objective of the European Labour Authority is to contribute to ensuring fair labour mobility in the internal market, focusing on Union rules in the areas of cross-border labour mobility and coordination of social security systems within the Union.

This directly contributes to the Commission's political priority on 'A deeper and fairer internal market with a strengthened industrial base' (Priority 4 of the Political Guidelines A New Start for Europe⁷⁹), and it complements the priority on 'A New Boost for Jobs, Growth and Investment' (Priority 4) by creating a more conducive regulatory environment to support a climate of entrepreneurship and job creation.

By promoting a better functioning internal market, it will also facilitate the take-up of opportunities for cross-border employment and the provision of services, in line with the Europe 2020 strategy which emphasises smart, sustainable and inclusive growth as a way to overcome the structural weaknesses in Europe's economy, improve its competitiveness and productivity and underpin a sustainable social market economy.

1.4.2. Specific objective(s)

Specific objective No 1

⁷⁸ As referred to in Article 54(2)(a) or (b) of the Financial Regulation.

⁷⁹ http://ec.europa.eu/priorities/publications/president-junckers-political-guidelines_en

(a) Facilitate access for individuals and employers to information on their rights and obligations as well as to relevant services.

Specific objective No 2

(b) Support cooperation between Member States in the cross-border enforcement of relevant Union law, including facilitating joint inspections.

Specific objective No 3

(c) Mediate and facilitate a solution in cases of cross-border disputes between national authorities or labour market disruptions.

1.4.3. Expected result(s) and impact

Individuals and employers should benefit from increased transparency and access to information on their rights and obligations, greater awareness of the opportunities available to them, more consistent service provision across the Union and strengthened enforcement of their rights.

National authorities are expected to benefit in particular from smoother cooperation and enhanced exchange of information, synergies in the work of committees and streamlined data collection, analytical and technical support, and access to a mediation procedure in the areas under the Authority's scope.

1.4.4. Indicators of results and impact

Detailed objectives and expected results including performance indicators will be established by the annual work programme, while the multi-annual work programme will set out overall strategic objectives, expected results and performance indicators. The key performance indicators for the Agencies developed by the Commission should be respected.

In addition, a dedicated monitoring framework, including a number of indicators, is described in the Impact Assessment Report accompanying the proposal. The framework will be subject to further adjustment according to the final legal and implementation requirements and timeline.

1.5. Grounds for the proposal/initiative

1.5.1. Requirement(s) to be met in the short or long term

The proposal is based on Articles 46, 48, 53(1), 62 and 91(1) TFEU, focusing on the free movement of workers, the coordination of social security systems, the take-up and pursuit of activities as self-employed persons, the freedom to provide services and common rules applicable to international transport.

The choice of legal basis reflects the main objectives and scope of the initiative, focusing on cross border labour mobility and social security coordination, including posting of workers. The legal basis for this proposal is also in line with that of the Union acts which will fall under the scope of activities of the Authority. The immediate result is to create a European Labour Authority, which will support the provision of information and services to individuals and employers, and support Member States on cooperation and exchange of information, joint inspections, risk assessments, capacity building, mediation between national authorities, and cooperation in cases of labour market disruptions. In the longer term the scope of the Agency may be modified, subject to an evaluation to be performed no later than 5 years from the entry into force of the founding regulation.

- 1.5.2. Added value of Union involvement (it may result from different factors, e.g. coordination gains, legal certainty, greater effectiveness or complementarities). For the purposes of this point 'added value of Union involvement' is the value resulting from Union intervention which is additional to the value that would have been otherwise created by Member States alone.

Reasons for action at European level (ex-ante)

The objectives of the proposal cannot be sufficiently achieved by the Member States at national, regional or local level, and can be better achieved at Union level for the following reasons:

(a) providing high quality and up-to-date information and services to the public about their rights and obligations in cross-border situations needs to be coordinated at Union level in order to ensure a consistent, clear, and efficient approach,

(b) the application of Union law in the fields of cross border labour mobility and the coordination of social security systems relies on cooperation between Member States, meaning that no Member State can act alone,

(c) in order to increase synergies and support cooperation between Member States in the application of Union law across the fields of labour mobility and social security coordination, to ensure legal certainty for administrations and individuals alike and to arrive at a shared understanding of enforcement needs, it is necessary to develop a coordinated and joint approach at Union level instead of relying on what can be a complex network of bilateral or multilateral agreements.

Expected generated Union added value (ex-post)

The setting up of the Authority will facilitate the fair, simple and effective application of Union law across the Union. It will improve cooperation and timely exchange of information between Member States, and increase transparency and access to information and services for individuals and employers. It will support joint inspections with the participation of competent authorities from different Member States. It will provide Member States with dedicated labour market analyses and capacity building services.

- 1.5.3. Lessons learned from similar experiences in the past

The initiative takes stock of recent and on-going legislative proposals in the related fields of labour mobility, posting, and social security coordination, and the setting up of a single digital gateway. The Impact Assessment and proposal builds on the progress and lessons learned from these ongoing initiatives, which highlighted the need for operational support, in terms of improved cross-border cooperation and increased transparency and awareness, in order to improve the application and enforcement of relevant Union law.

The proposal has also taken note of the ongoing evaluation of four EU Agencies in the employment policy area⁸⁰. This evaluation includes an individual assessment of each agency, a comparative perspective, and a prospective assessment regarding the future functioning of the four agencies. The nature of the four agencies is quite distinct to that of the proposed Authority since they are predominantly research-centred and do not have a cross-border focus. Nonetheless, certain relevant preliminary elements of the evaluation have contributed to this proposal, most notably with regard to the organisation of tasks and governance. The Impact Assessment report accompanying this proposal examines the possible interaction between a new European Labour Authority and the existing four agencies.

1.5.4. Compatibility and possible synergy with other appropriate instruments

The Authority should cooperate and promote synergies with other Union information services, such as Your Europe Advice, and take full advantage and ensure consistency with the Your Europe portal, which will form the backbone of the future single digital gateway⁸¹. The Authority should also cooperate with other relevant Union initiatives and networks, in particular the European Network of Public Employment Services (PES)⁸², the European Enterprise Network⁸³, the Border Focal Point⁸⁴ and SOLVIT⁸⁵, as well as with relevant national services such as the bodies to promote equal treatment and to support Union workers and members of their family, designated by Member States under Directive 2014/54/EU, and national contact points designated under Directive 2011/24/EU to provide information on healthcare.

The Authority will take over some tasks currently performed by the Commission under the EaSI programme, in particular technical and operational tasks. The respective work programmes of both EaSI and the Authority will make sure that they are complementary and do not overlap.

It will cooperate with other EU Agencies working in related fields, in particular the European Agency for Safety and Health at Work (EU OSHA), the European Centre for the Development of Vocational Training (CEDEFOP), and the European Agency for the improvement of living and working conditions (EUROFOUND).

Comments

In order to finance this new initiative, both redeployment and fresh money are necessary. Existing activities currently implemented under the EaSI regulation as well as under the Commission prerogative “Free Movement of Workers” will be shifted with their financial resources. Financial contribution from prerogatives “Support activities to the European transport policy and passenger rights including communication activities” and “Transport security” will complement the Commission's redeployment efforts to finance this new initiative. The remainder will be made available through the available margin of Heading 1A.

⁸⁶ The financial aspects of this proposal will not prejudice the Commission's proposal on the next Multiannual Financial Framework.

2. MANAGEMENT MEASURES

2.1. Monitoring and reporting rules

All Union agencies work under a strict monitoring system involving an internal control coordinator, the Internal Audit Service of the Commission, the Management Board, the Commission, the Court of Auditors and the Budgetary Authority. This system is reflected and laid down in the European Labour Authority founding regulation.

In accordance with the Joint Statement on the EU decentralised agencies, the annual work programme of the Authority shall comprise detailed objectives and expected results including performance indicators. The Authority will accompany its activities included in its working programme by key performance indicators. The activities of the Authority will be then measured against these indicators in the Annual Activity Report. The annual work programme shall be coherent with the multi-annual work programme and both shall be included in an annual single programming document which shall be submitted to European Parliament, the Council and the Commission.

The Management Board of Authority will be responsible for supervision of the administrative, operational and budgetary efficient management of the Authority.

No later than five years after the entry into force of the founding regulation of the Authority, and every five years thereafter, the Commission shall assess the Agency's performance in relation to its objectives, mandate and tasks. The evaluation shall, in particular, address the possible need to modify the mandate of the Authority, and the financial implications of any such modification. The Commission shall report to the European Parliament, the Council and the Management Board on the evaluation findings. The findings of the evaluation shall be made public.

2.2. Management and control system

2.2.1. Risk(s) identified

The Authority being a totally new agency, if the recruitment process is not on schedule, it might impact the operational capacity of the Authority. The support of the parent DG will be crucial to play the roles of Authorising Officer and AIPN until the Authority is granted administrative autonomy.

Frequent meetings and regular contacts will be needed between the parent DG and the Authority during the start-up phase, in order to make sure that the Authority can be autonomous and operational as quickly as possible.

2.2.2. Control method(s) envisaged

The Authority will be subject to administrative controls including budgetary control, internal audit, annual reports by the European Court of Auditors, the annual discharge for the execution of the EU budget and possible investigations conducted by OLAF to ensure, in particular, that the resources allocated to agencies are put to proper use. The activities of the Authority will also be subject to the supervision of the Ombudsman in accordance with Article 228 of the Treaty. These administrative controls provide a number of procedural safeguards to ensure that account is taken of the interests of the stakeholders.

2.3. Measures to prevent fraud and irregularities

Anti-fraud measures are foreseen in the Article 38 of the proposal for a founding regulation of European Labour Authority and the Executive Director and the Management Board will take the appropriate measures in accordance with the Internal Control Standards applied across all EU institutions. In line with the Common Approach an anti-fraud strategy will be developed by the Authority.

All calculations have been made on a Brussels-based assumption, as the seat of the Authority is not determined. The start-up period has been assessed to five years, with a full operational capacity in 2023. From that moment on, the overall budget of the Authority increases by 2% every year to cover the inflation. Payments are aligned on commitments as, at this stage, it is not decided yet whether Title 3 will be non-differentiated or differentiated appropriations.

In the years 2019 and 2020, the existing activities currently implemented by the Commission under the EaSI programme will be shifted to the Agency. The EURES portal will indeed be shifted in 2020 only. The corresponding amounts made available to the Authority from EaSI are 6,300 MEUR in 2019 and 10,187 MEUR in 2020, or a total amount of 16,487 MEUR until the end of the 2014-2020 Multiannual Financial Framework. The amount made available to the Authority from the Free Movement of Workers both in 2019 and 2020 is 1,287 MEUR per year or a total amount of 2,574 MEUR until the end of the 2014-2020 Multiannual Financial Framework.

In addition, in order to finance the transport related activities that the Authority will implement, the amounts made available to the Authority from DG MOVE are 1,360 MEUR in 2019 and 2,720 MEUR in 2020, or a total amount of 4,080 MEUR until the end of the current Multiannual Financial Framework 2014-2020.
