Introduction

This Check-List presents a comprehensive overview of 'review clauses' – namely review, evaluation and reporting provisions – contained in recent EU legislation. It is produced by the Ex-Post Impact Assessment Unit of the European Parliamentary Research Service (EPRS), the EP's in-house research service and think tank, as part of its on-going support for parliamentary committees and individual Members in scrutinising the executive in its implementation of EU law, policies and programmes.

The review clauses, listed by the European Parliament committee responsible at the time of the adoption of the relevant legislative act, mainly concern the European Commission, reflecting its institutional role and duties (notably in Article 17 of the Treaty on the European Union) to oversee the application of Union law. They come in different forms: annual reports, mid-term reviews or reports, reviews to prepare potential new legislative proposals, interim reports, final reports, or ex-post evaluations. They can concern very specific aspects of a piece of EU legislation or of an EU programme, the state of progress in implementation, the provision of statistics or the provision of a full ex-post evaluation. The Check-List also covers reporting and information duties by Member States towards the Commission. The information gathered and processed by the Commission is generally then forwarded to the Parliament and Council.

The Check-List concentrates on acts adopted by the European Parliament and Council of Ministers during the most recent parliamentary term, from July 2009 to April 2014, and which are published at the time of writing. It is our intention to extend its coverage to include relevant acts adopted during previous parliamentary terms in due course. The document will be updated on a regular basis to include the most recent acts containing review clauses hereafter.

The European Parliament is strongly committed to the concept of Better Law-Making, and particularly to the effective use of ex-ante impact assessment and ex-post evaluation throughout the whole legislative cycle. It is in this spirit that the Parliament has a particular interest in following the transposition, implementation and enforcement of EU law, and more generally, monitoring the impact, operation, effectiveness and delivery of policy and programmes in practice.

This Check-List presents a comprehensive overview of 'review clauses' – namely review, evaluation and reporting provisions – contained in recent EU legislation. It is produced by the Ex-Post Impact Assessment Unit of the European Parliamentary Research Service (EPRS), the EP's in-house research service and think tank, as part of its on-going support for parliamentary committees and individual Members in scrutinising the executive in its implementation of EU law, policies and programmes.

The European Parliament is strongly committed to the concept of Better Law-Making, and particularly to the effective use of ex-ante impact assessment and ex-post evaluation throughout the whole legislative cycle. It is in this spirit that the Parliament has a particular interest in following the transposition, implementation and enforcement of EU law, and more generally, monitoring the impact, operation, effectiveness and delivery of policy and programmes in practice.
