EU action plan against terrorism

Motion for a resolution

---

Paragraph 1(a)

- a) that a European unit responsible for policies designed to assist the victims of terrorism be created under the direct authority and responsibility of the European Anti-Terrorism Coordinator. This unit will be a reference point for European policy in this field and its purpose will be to take in, listen to, inform and assist victims and to promote implementation of the measures which are necessary if it is to operate successfully.

Each year the Commission and the European Anti-Terrorism Coordinator will provide the European Parliament with a report on their activities. Parliament will assess that report and, where appropriate, suggest any action which it thinks should be taken.

Paragraph 1(b)

- (b) that the support of the EU and Member States be enlisted, within the framework of the UN, for the moves under way to adopt a global definition of terrorism and to reach as swift an agreement as possible on the Global Convention on International Terrorism (deletion). At the same time, terrorist crimes in the Member States should not be time-barred, thereby reflecting the reprobation of the international community, which considers them to be some of the most serious and inadmissible crimes against humanity;

Paragraph 1(n)

- (n) that the fight against terrorism be seen as a priority of the Union and a key part of its external action under the European Security Strategy, and that terrorism, and more specifically terrorism by radical groups that claim to defend Islam (deletion), should be seen as the main problem that European citizens face, and as a threat to democracy, the rule of law, the EU Charter of Fundamental Rights and the UN Charter;

Paragraph 1(p)

- (p) that account be taken of: the diverse nature of terrorism, the organisations involved in it and the states and non-state actors that sponsor, finance and practise it for their own purposes; the fact that terrorism is an emerging and unpredictable phenomenon with its own specific sense of time (deletion); and the urgent need for the Union to develop a proactive – rather than just reactive – policy to combat it;
