COORDINATORS' MEETING FINAL DECISIONS

8 OCTOBER 2019

- I. Adoption of the draft agenda
- II. Information from the Chair
- III. Scope of DROI hearings for the first semester of 2020

A. Major hearing:

Authoritarianism and shrinking space for freedom of expression, press freedom and human rights defenders, with case studies on China, Egypt and Russia

The hearing will place special emphasis on the rise of authoritarian governments and the building of policies and narratives challenging universal human rights and fundamental freedoms worldwide through the analysis of three specific countries from different continents.

B. Regular hearings:

- Respect for minorities, beliefs and religions

Persisting discrimination, intolerance and hatred across the globe threatens to marginalise many minority group members. This hearing aims to address the situation of the rights of indigenous peoples, religious minorities and LGBTI, and to identify possible EU responses on the matter.

- Migration and human rights

Drawing on the situations at the border between the U.S. and Mexico, Venezuela and Colombia, Libya and Europe, the hearing will focus on the responsibility for non-respect of human rights of migrants and the specific challenges faced by vulnerable groups with a special focus on children, as well as trafficking in human beings.

- Business and Human Rights (possibly with JURI)

Under international human rights law, States must protect against human rights abuses by private actors, including companies who operate across borders. Steps have been undertaken to address this issue at Member States level, for instance, under the Duty of Vigilance law in France; Child Labour Due Diligence Law in The Netherlands or the UK Modern Slavery Act.

A major focus will be on how to put in place a European mandatory framework of human rights due diligence legislation, establishing the responsibility and liability of EU-based companies and their subsidiaries concerning human rights abuses and building on best practices and lessons learnt from successful experiences in the field.

- Protection of environmental rights defenders

Land and environmental defenders play a crucial role in defending people and ecosystems, notably in the context of a worrying surge of new conflicts over lands and resources in many countries in the world. Addressing attacks against environmental rights defenders, their root causes and their protection require a specific policy approach of states and international organisations. A major focus of the hearing will also be on how to ensure effective remedies and adequate redress for victims.

Decision: Coordinators agreed on the above-mentioned possibilities for the respective hearings.

IV. Scope of DROI missions for the first semester of 2020

- Amazon (Brazil and Bolivia)

The recent destruction of the world's biggest rainforest in the Amazon has a huge impact on the ecosystem in the region as well as across the world. The main purpose of the mission is to engage with a broad range of official and non-official actors on environmental rights, including indigenous communities, notably in the context of the ILO Convention 169.

- China

The purpose of the mission is to address human rights challenges on freedom of expression, minority rights, human rights defenders, new technologies and business and human rights, given China's prominent role in the world economy and global value chains.

- Turkey (to be closely coordinated with AFET)

The mission will focus on shrinking space for freedom of expression and civil society, minority rights, as well as the situation of refugees hosted in the country.

Decision: Coordinators selected Bolivia as a second destination country for the visit to the Amazon and agreed on the above-mentioned possibilities for the respective missions.

V. Studies 2019

- Amazon: challenges for environmental and indigenous rights
- Discriminatory laws undermining women's rights
- Impact investment in the framework of business and human rights
- Biodiversity as a human right

Decision: Coordinators agreed to commission the above-mentioned 4 studies/in-depth analyses from the remaining 2019 budget.

VI. Study on Combatting impunity for international crimes in third countries: lessons learnt and outlook for EU engagement - pending from previous legislature

Decision: Coordinators took note that the Policy Department had to cancel the contract for the study due to force majeure reasons.

VII. Any other business

- Exchange of views with Omar Shakir, Human Rights Watch Director for Israel and Palestine

Decision: Coordinators agreed to invite Human Rights Watch Director Omar Shakir.

- Exchange of view with indigenous peoples representative from Latin America (Renew's proposal)

Decision: Coordinators decided to include the exchange of views on the DROI agenda of 12 November, if possible. A meeting over lunch was proposed as an alternative option.

- Question time

Decision: Coordinators agreed to include "Question time" to the EEAS/Commission in the DROI working programme.

- Follow-up to urgency resolutions

Decisions: Coordinators decided to include on the agenda follow-up to the urgency resolutions relating to China, Turkey, USA-Mexican Border and Russia.

- EU Human Rights Dialogues

Decisions: Coordinators agreed to organize a briefing before the holding of the next round of the High Level EU-Iran Human Rights Dialogue.

VIII. Next meeting of the Coordinators
