

WRITTEN QUESTION E-0132/07
by Peter Skinner (PSE)
to the Commission

Subject: Fire sprinklers

Given that, according to current research, fire sprinklers have been demonstrated to control or extinguish between 96% and 99% of all fires at the incipient stage (early stage of development), what is the Commission doing to encourage the greater use of fire suppression systems?