

Question for written answer E-006587/2011
to the Commission
Rule 117
Małgorzata Handzlik (PPE)

Subject: No Polish-language version of e-Certis brochure

An increasing number of companies wish to gain access to public procurement procedures in other EU Member States, and much has already been done to make it easier for companies, particularly SMEs, to do so. One such initiative is e-Certis. A brochure on this initiative is currently available in 21 official languages on the Commission's website, but there is no Polish-language version.

I consider that the absence of a Polish-language brochure could represent an obstacle to Polish companies seeking to gain access to public procurement procedures in other EU Member States. With this in mind:

1. Why has no Polish-language version of the e-Certis brochure been made available yet?
2. When will Polish companies be able to gain access to a Polish-language version?