

Question for written answer E-006289/2014
to the Commission
Rule 130
Marlene Mizzi (S&D)

Subject: Uniform driving licence

When EU citizens move from one Member State to another, certain states do not recognise the driving licence of the other Member State. This could lead to the citizens in question paying higher insurance premiums in the state they have moved to.

Is the Commission considering introducing a uniform driving licence to avoid this happening?