Subject: Directive on privacy and electronic communication

According to Directive 2002/58/EC of the European Parliament and of the Council of 12 July 2002 concerning the processing of personal data and the protection of privacy in the electronic communications sector (Directive on privacy and electronic communications), website providers must provide users with information about the purposes of cookies used on their websites.

Has the EU drafted, or could it draft, a text template that website providers would be free to use on their websites in order to comply with the directive?
