Subject: Action to combat tachograph fraud website

A device is for sale on the website <http://www.stoptachograf.pl> which can fraudulently interfere with tachograph readings. When the system is activated, it blocks the tachograph and the driver cannot be monitored.

1. Is the Commission aware of the existence of this device and this website?
2. Does the Commission agree that such fraudulent practices represent a serious threat to honest operators in the transport sector?
3. What kinds of measures does the Commission plan to take to combat such devices and websites?
