

Question for written answer E-009072/2014
to the Commission
Rule 130
Richard Sulík (ECR)

Subject: Cookie template

I consider the Commission's reply to my Written Question E-006984/2014 to be highly insufficient. The Commission said that no template for a 'cookie notice' page had been, or would be, created. Yet templates for a cookie notice page have been translated into all the official languages of the EU and can be found here. These templates seem to be only for the use of the EU institutions. Website providers mainly need the template for its legal content, since they are able to fill in the technical specifications themselves.

Can the EU authorise the public to use these templates without infringing EU copyright?
