Subject: Responses of the European Agency for Safety and Health at Work to inquiries received from MEPs' offices and citizens

Staff members from my office emailed the European Agency for Safety and Health at Work (EU-OSHA) three times on my behalf in September and October in response to a welcome note that I received from the agency.

Does the Commission consider it acceptable that my office has not received a response as of yet?

What is the average response time of the EU-OSHA when replying to emails and communications received from MEPs' offices and European citizens?
