Subject: EU disabled parking permit

Member States grant their disabled citizens various concessions to make their lives easier. One such Europe-wide example of this is the EU disabled parking permit. In the light of the objectives pursued by the European Disability Strategy 2010–2020 and the clearly declared efforts of EU institutions to reach out to the disabled, please allow me to ask the following question:

Is there any way, at this point in time, that the validity of the European parking permit can be extended to include other services (e.g. concessions in the use of motorways, public transport, etc.)?
