Subject: Process of liberalisation of services with Montenegro

One of the main aims of the European Union's stabilisation and association programme for Montenegro is the liberalisation of the service sector. To this end the parties to the process undertake to adopt the necessary measures to permit the provision of services by individuals or companies of the EU or Montenegro who are based somewhere apart from where the recipient of those services is.

What stage has the process of liberalisation of services between the EU and Montenegro reached?

Does the Commission consider that this process may facilitate the provision of services by Montenegrins in the EU to the same extent as by Europeans in Montenegro?
