

Question for written answer E-003456/2015
to the Commission
Rule 130
Franck Proust (PPE)

Subject: Air transport: contracts

Given its international nature, air transport is exposed to social and tax dumping, which in turn create unfair competition.

1. Could the Commission state what principles of EU law govern employment contracts for airline staff, particularly aircrew?
2. When will a Member State be able to insist that airline staff, particularly aircrew, employed on its territory are subject to its domestic laws?