

Question for written answer E-003608/2015
to the Commission
Rule 130
Doru-Claudian Frunzuliță (S&D)

Subject: Episodes of racism against Romanians in Italy

On 1 March 2015 five cars with Romanian licence plates were burned in Italy. Apparently the only car that was not burned was one with an Italian licence plate.

Will the Commission publicly condemn these clear episodes of racism against Romanian citizens in Italy?

What action is being taken to effectively implement the legal instruments which offer protection against racism and related forms of intolerance to ethnic and religious minorities throughout the EU, and which could prevent such episodes of racism?