

Question for written answer E-003641/2015
to the Commission
Rule 130
Ivan Jakovčić (ALDE)

Subject: Earthquake prediction

The area of Europe where I live experienced significant seismic activity in recent decades. This resulted in majorly destructive earthquakes with consequences for cities in the wider area. The following cities were hit: Zagreb in Croatia, Skopje in Macedonia, Banja Luka in Bosnia and Herzegovina and the region of Friuli Venezia Giulia in Italy, with a heavy death toll and enormous material damage.

I ask the Commission how and with what programmes it is participating in predicting seismic activity on the European continent.