to the Commission

Subject: How is the European Agency for Safety and Health at Work striving to be representative of European citizens?

Previously, in its responses to Written Questions E-008102/14, E-007850/14 and E-007851/14, the Commission stated that it 'strives to be representative of the increasingly diverse European citizens it serves'.

Does the Commission's view mirror that of the European Agency for Safety and Health at Work?

In what ways is the Commission striving to be representative of the increasingly diverse European citizenry?

Could the European Agency for Safety and Health at Work provide 10 examples of these efforts in practice?
