Subject: Glorification and use of Nazi symbols

There is occasional news in the media of parades of soldiers who were members of Nazi troops during the Second World War. There are musicians who celebrate and use the Nazi salute during their performance. There are also new political movements that glorify Nazism. One can come across the expression and use of Nazi symbols on social networks.

1. What measures exist at EU level to sanction such conduct?
2. Does the Commission have mechanisms for sanctioning such expression in Member States that do not themselves adequately sanction such activities?
