

Question for written answer E-004992/2015
to the Commission (Vice-President / High Representative)
Rule 130
Javier Couso Permuy (GUE/NGL)

Subject: VP/HR - Israel's position on Iran's nuclear programme

Following the latest legislative elections in Israel, the High Representative was quick to telephone the winner of those elections, Benjamin Netanyahu.

Did the High Representative have the chance, in the course of that conversation, to mention the negotiations on Iran's nuclear programme? Did Mr Netanyahu mention them?

Does she consider that the results of the election are positive for stability in the region?
