

Question for written answer E-005912/2015
to the Commission
Rule 130
Francesc Gambús (PPE)

Subject: Creation of an international court to deal with terrorism

On 13 April of this year, a conference of Euro-Mediterranean Ministers for Foreign Affairs was held in Barcelona. A proposal to create an international court to deal exclusively with terrorist offences, completely separate from the International Criminal Tribunal (ICT), was announced at the subsequent press conference.

What is the Commission's opinion on this initiative, bearing in mind the existence of the ICT?

What actions does the Commission intend to take to facilitate the creation of a court of this kind, taking into account its powers and those of the High Representative?