Subject: The European Railway Agency (ERA) striving to have a workforce that is representative of EU citizens

In its responses to Written Questions E-008102/14, E-007850/14 and E-007851/14, the Commission stated that 'the Commission strives to be representative of the increasingly diverse European citizens it serves'.

What policies does the European Railway Agency (ERA) have in place to enable it to be representative of the increasingly diverse citizens of the EU?

What internal strategies does the ERA have to ensure that its workforce is representative of such citizens?

How does the ERA monitor and measure the success of the diversity and representation of EU citizens that it is striving to achieve in its workforce?
