

Question for written answer E-006378/2015
to the Commission
Rule 130
Ivan Jakovčić (ALDE)

Subject: Digital cities

The Istrian town of Pula is the first in Croatia to introduce a broad Internet communication with citizens and other stakeholders.

As it is known that the Digital Agenda is one of the most important programmes of the current Commission, are there programmes to encourage the digitisation of cities and regions and their Internet communication with citizens and other entities?