to the Commission
Rule 130

Subject: The New Silk Road

More than 60 countries have joined the AIIB, Asian Investment and Infrastructure Bank.

This includes some Member States of the European Union. The AIIB intends to invest billions in the construction of a transport infrastructure to connect Eurasian areas from China to Europe, also known as the New Silk Road.

Can the Commission say if it intends to participate in this global endeavour of building a capital infrastructure and connecting the Eurasian area with modern roads?
