

Question for written answer E-006387/2015
to the Commission
Rule 130
Ivan Jakovčić (ALDE)

Subject: Young farmers

In the Istrian region there are many young people who are engaged in agriculture. Also, a large number would like to devote themselves to agriculture. Unfortunately, since there is no efficient incentive system those young people are at a disadvantage in relation to young European farmers.

I ask the Commission: In what way can young people in Croatia be helped to stay at home and continue the agricultural tradition of their ancestors?