

Question for written answer E-006388/2015
to the Commission
Rule 130
Ivan Jakovčić (ALDE)

Subject: Public lighting

Public lighting is largely responsible for light pollution in many areas, especially in large cities. Many cities and towns in Istria invest considerable financial efforts to reduce light pollution by introducing public lighting more acceptable for the environment.

What is the Commission doing to reduce light pollution in Europe?

Are there European programmes that can financially support cities and regions that want to reduce light pollution in their area?