Subject: TTIP - Keeping the public better informed

Following the emergence of numerous criticisms on the lack of transparency of the Transatlantic Trade and Investment Partnership (TTIP) negotiations and the increased sharing, on social media, of unreliable clips and articles, the Commission should respond more and inform European companies and citizens – in an entertaining but precise manner – of the concrete consequences of TTIP for them.

Does the Commission intend to engage in communication and raising awareness in an effort to continue informing European citizens of the concrete consequences of TTIP in their daily lives and to respond to biased messages?
