

Question for written answer E-007155/2015
to the Commission

Rule 130

Victor Negrescu (S&D)

Subject: The rights of citizens on the Internet

The pressure generated by the need to enhance cyber security sometimes determines interpretations that can lead to abuses and violations of user rights. How does the Commission intend to defend the rights of citizens on the Internet and their data, in the context of stricter control of the digital field exercised by Member States?