Subject: VP/HR - Religious persecution

Recent weeks have seen dozens of Christians murdered in Libya due to their faith, while Christians are also being persecuted and massacred by the terrorist organisation Islamic State, in particular in Syria and Iraq. In view of the fact that this issue was discussed at the annual meeting between the European Commission and the African Union on 22 April, I would like to ask the following questions:

1. What results were obtained due to the meeting between the European Union and the African Union?
2. In view of its competences, what resources will the Vice-President/High Representative use to fight the persecution of Christian minorities, along with other religious and ethnic minorities, that is being carried out by the Islamic State?
