

Question for written answer E-007327/2015
to the Commission
Rule 130
Siôn Simon (S&D)

Subject: Malaria

The efforts of the EU in the fight against malaria are noble, and it is one of the largest contributors to the Global Fund to Fight AIDS, Tuberculosis and Malaria. However, with half a million deaths a year, mostly in Africa, malaria is still a major issue that needs to be tackled, with much more work and funding required in order to prevent and treat the disease adequately.

How does the Commission plan to address the issue of drug-resistant malaria in order to help bring down the number of deaths from the disease?