

Question for written answer E-007825/2015
to the Commission
Rule 130
Steven Woolfe (EFDD)

Subject: Code-sharing agreements between airlines

Many airlines that operate in the world have code-sharing agreements with other airlines. This means passengers from either airline can buy a ticket for the same service, on the understanding that it will be operated by one airline, but count as a flight service by both.

Are there any directives or other laws that govern code-sharing agreements between airlines, and if so, could the Commission please provide details?