

Question for written answer E-008295/2015
to the Commission
Rule 130
Janice Atkinson (EFDD)

Subject: Single Digital Market Strategy - Geoblocking

Part of the Single Digital Market Strategy is to put an end to 'geoblocking' – a process by which people are denied access to certain content due to copyright concerns when they are outside those countries to which the copyright applies.

What measures are contained within the Single Digital Market Strategy to prevent businesses and people involved in the production of media from being undermined by this change of regulation?