

Question for written answer E-009114/2015
to the Commission
Rule 130
Jonathan Arnott (EFDD)

Subject: Exclusion of non-nationals from voting in national elections and referendums

Under the terms of the EU free movement rules as set out in the Treaties, is there a derogation for Member State governments to exclude non-nationals from voting in their respective country? If no derogation is in the Treaties, could an EU-imposed fine be levied against a Member State for excluding non-nationals from voting in both national elections and referendums?