Rule 130
Jonathan Arnott (EFDD)

Subject: EU-wide corporation tax

It has been reported that both Germany and France are keen on the harmonisation of corporation tax across the EU.

Given that Britain has the lowest rate of corporation tax in the G7, at 20 %, is the Commission aware of the significant difficulties that this would cause for the British economy?

Can the Commission please confirm its latest position and the status of any such proposals, whether formal or informal?
