Subject: Dialogue with the Eurasian Economic Union

The Eurasian Economic Union (EEU) launched on 1 January 2015 includes Russia, Kazakhstan, Belarus, Armenia and, as of May 2015, Kyrgyzstan.

The European External Action Service's 'Issue Paper on Relations with Russia' explores the possibility of offering a dialogue with the EEU as part of a 'package deal' to secure a commitment from Russia to resolving the Ukraine crisis.

The European Neighbourhood Policy (ENP) review paper of March 2015 encourages input on how to accommodate the 'neighbours of our neighbours'.

In the light of these papers, does the Commission intend to offer the EEU a formal dialogue?
