

Question for written answer E-010777/2015
to the Commission
Rule 130
Siôn Simon (S&D)

Subject: Education, Audiovisual and Culture Executive Agency (EACEA) - representativeness of the citizens of Europe

Previously, the Commission has stated that it 'strives to be representative of the increasingly diverse European citizens it serves' (answer to written questions E-008102/14, E-007850/14 and E-007851/14).

Does the Commission's view mirror that of the Education, Audiovisual and Culture Executive Agency (EACEA), which falls under the competence of the Commission?

Could the EACEA, recalling that it falls under the competence of the Commission, provide 10 examples of its efforts to be representative?
