

Question for written answer E-012260/2015
to the Commission
Rule 130
Sorin Moisă (S&D)

Subject: Energy taxation in the EU

Does the Commission have an accurate inventory of the exact proportion and type of taxes and levies that make up the taxation component of the retail electricity price for both households and industrial consumers, in each Member State?

Are these taxes/levies energy-related (i.e. used for financing energy and climate policies) or part of general taxation (i.e. VAT, excise duties) or are they used to fund other specific activities (i.e. public television via TV licence fees)?