

Question for written answer E-012907/2015
to the Commission
Rule 130
Ivan Jakovčić (ALDE)

Subject: Migrant crisis in Europe

After Hungary took the dangerous step of closing its border with Serbia, a wave of migrants fleeing from the war-ravaged countries of the Middle East is heading to Croatia.

For 24 hours now there has been a constant influx of migrants into Croatia, which has thus far accepted this wave of refugees well.

What measures will the Commission take to provide immediate support to Croatia as it struggles with the huge task of taking in refugees whose numbers cannot be foreseen and could end up being over 10 000?