

Question for written answer E-000435/2016
to the Commission

Rule 130

Doru-Claudian Frunzuliță (S&D)

Subject: Denmark and refugees possessions

Denmark recently agreed to make changes to its immigration laws. Among the proposals is a controversial new measure to take away refugees' possessions worth above EUR 1 500 to pay for their stay. Last week, Immigration Minister Inger Støjberg made clear the amount refugees could keep would be raised from the EUR 400 initially suggested.

How does Commission view these new changes to Denmark's immigration laws?