Subject: Halting payment of agricultural subsidies for Croatia

The Commission has halted payment of agricultural subsidies for Croatia amounting to HRK 1.23 billion. During a review, a number of irregularities were allegedly identified in projects that should have received European support.

Will the Commission publish the findings of this review?

What steps will the Commission take so that the irregularities that were identified do not result in rural development funding being suspended for even longer when it has already been delayed for over a year?
