

Question for written answer E-008798/2016
to the Commission

Rule 130

Doru-Claudian Frunzuliță (S&D)

Subject: New transport technologies

Advances in transport technologies, along with corresponding developments in manufacturing and energy, raise many issues of potential concern.

Infrastructure, especially roads, will have to be upgraded to incorporate the high-tech sensors needed to achieve the potential benefits of new transport technologies.

Is the Commission going to encourage the harmonisation of laws across the EU, especially on liability, road standards and the use of sensor tracking technology?