Rule 130

Subject: Number of Infringement proceedings against Spain

Infringement proceedings brought by the Commission against Spain have sometimes resulted in judgments that benefit Spanish citizens, on subjects such as the tax on fuels, labour regulations for the Civil Guard, or more recently, abusive clauses in mortgage contracts.

Under the Treaty on the Functioning of the European Union, infringement proceedings are one of the instruments available to the Commission to monitor the application of EU law, and regardless of their current status, I would like to know:

1. How many infringement proceedings against Spain are currently in progress?
2. How many infringement proceedings in each policy area (internal market, consumer rights, environment, health etc.) are currently open against Spain?
