

Question for written answer E-002146/2017
to the Commission
Rule 130
Edward Czesak (ECR)

Subject: DG Competition's current activity

Available analyses show that at present, there are many proceedings pending which are intended to clarify whether a number of activities carried out within the EU by companies are unfair on those companies' competitors.

Are any schemes or internal arrangements in place at DG Competition as regards the selection of staff handling a case?

Are the members of teams handling cases at DG Competition selected in line with the principle of equal representation of different nationalities?

Why are certain cases handled by teams comprising nationals of only one country, i.e. the home country of a company subject to proceedings (e.g. Velux, Philips)?