Subject: Management of waste from the extractive industries

Since the legal transposition deadline of 1 May 2008 for Directive 2006/21/EC on the management of waste from the extractive industries (the Mining Waste Directive), the majority of Member States have adopted the measures needed to implement the provisions, but almost all have experienced implementation problems, and four have still not completed transposition correctly.

Will the Commission provide the Member States with guidelines on inspections and reporting?
