

Question for written answer E-007761/2017
to the Commission
Rule 130
Doru-Claudian Frunzuliță (S&D)

Subject: Water reuse

At a time of water scarcity and drought, the development of alternative sources, including through water reuse, can help alleviate shortages both globally and across Europe. In the EU, about 2.4 % of treated urban wastewater is currently reused. Is the Commission considering increasing the current volume, especially in order to direct it towards agricultural irrigation or industrial use?