Subject: Use of structural funds to manage demographic change in Spain

As a follow-up to my previous question (E-002298/2017) on funding earmarked to combat the effects of demographic change in Spain, I should like to obtain more up-to-date information.

1. How much has Spain actually spent on managing demographic change between 2014 and the present?
2. How are the initiatives for the 2014-2020 period progressing?
3. What are the expectations for the second half of that period?
