Subject: Islamists infiltrating Europe

Die Presse and Die Welt have reported that an Israeli journalist managed to enter Germany without problems using a forged Syrian passport. A civil servant even advised him on the best way to deceive the German authorities. The journalist also managed to contact and donate money to the radical group the Muslim Brotherhood^{1 2}.

1. How does the Commission intend to address the problem of forged documents?
2. Is it aware of any other cases of Member State civil servants advising people on how to deceive the authorities?
3. How does the Commission intend to tackle the financing of radical Islamic organisations from within Europe?
