Subject: European Medicines Agency clarification

The European Medicines Agency has stated that its engagement on antimicrobial resistance will be maintained for 'as long as possible' during the transition between its base in London and subsequently Amsterdam.

How many months from September 2018 onwards does the Commission believe is an acceptable definition of 'as long as possible'?

Can the Commission say what measures it is taking to ensure that the key objectives of the EU One Health Action Plan against Antimicrobial Resistance will be met with regard to international regulatory convergence and reviewing all of the available information on the benefits and risks of older antibacterial agents?
