

Question for written answer E-002669/2019
to the Commission
Rule 138
Pascal Arimont (PPE)

Subject: Cross-border recognition of category B 100 driving licences

In Annex I to Directive 2006/126/EC of the European Parliament and of the Council of 20 December 2006 on driving licences, 'codes 100' are defined as national codes valid only for driving in the territory of the Member State which issued the licence. This can lead to situations, in places such as the Belgium-Luxembourg border region, in which a driver with a Luxembourgish category B 100 driving licence, for instance, is not permitted to drive his vehicle in Belgium.

1. Does the Commission intend to revisit the cross-border use of codes 100 in the interests of greater mobility between Member States?
2. Is the Commission aware of any Member States which recognise the cross-border use of codes 100 bilaterally?